Recently there has been an increase in cases of pneumonia among school aged children in our community (specifically atypical or “walking pneumonia”). At FAW, we are also still seeing cases of strep throat along with colds and sinus infections. Pneumonia is often caused by infectious agents such as viruses, fungi, and bacteria. Walking pneumonia is usually bacterial and thus responds to antibiotics. Although the symptoms are milder, they are basically the same as with typical pneumonia, including persistent cough, fever, fatigue, other cold-like symptoms, and (the more serious) trouble breathing and chest pain.

Our RaiseRight Gift Card Program has begun for the 2024-2025 school year. Remember, all Service Scholarship families will be required to order enough gift cards to accumulate $50 worth of rebates for our school. Click here to learn more!
