The most common complaints reported to me lately have been cold or flu-like symptoms including sore throat, congestion, cough, fatigue, and headache. Some diagnoses given have been strep, sinus and ear infections, flu A, and walking pneumonia. Some of these are treated with antibiotics, but often there are no cures or quick fixes, and all you can do is treat the symptoms and take care as best you can until you're better. As always, I highly recommend the essentials of rest/sleep, water, nutrition, sunshine, fresh air, exercise (as tolerated), and of course, lots of prayers for strength and healing.
